

2023 Oncology Massage Healing Summit

Sponsor/Exhibitor Opportunities

April 21-22, 2023

Northwestern Health Sciences University and the Society for Oncology Massage (S4OM) are hosting the Oncology Massage Healing Summit on April 21-22, 2023. Our theme is Collaborative Connections.

We will be sharing the latest information and up-to-date research at the Summit. We anticipate between 150-225 attendees including massage therapists with some nurses, aestheticians, and other medical professionals also joining the conference.

S4OM exists to support and educate massage therapists, consumers, and health professionals about the value and specific considerations and applications of massage for oncology patients and survivors. When it comes to oncology massage we answer the questions, "What is it?" "Why is it?" and "Where is it?"

S4OM Mission is to support the safe delivery of massage to people who have been diagnosed with cancer, to promote an oncology massage education standard and to collaborate in research. S4OM Vision – we exist to ease the journey through cancer.

Sponsor Opportunities

We are inviting you to sponsor our event because you provide products for oncology massage therapists or products that support the healing and well-being of people living with cancer.

Whether your goal is to introduce your product to a new target market or to unite with the oncology massage community, we invite you to sponsor our event. We depend on the financial support of people like you to help fund our event.
